RANGECRAFT ANNOUNCES NEW PRO-LINE FOLDAWAY RANGE HOOD

FAIR LAWN, NEW JERSEY - RANGECRAFT MANUFACTURING has announced the development and availability of its newest addition to their range hood line. The Pro-Line Foldaway Range Hood is the newest innovative design in ventilation.

Just as it's name implies, The Pro-Line Foldaway is designed to "fold back" in to the cabinet when it is not being used. It is hinged to open over the cooktop area allowing it to trap all pollutants when cooking. The Pro-Line Foldaway also offers higher efficiency due to its larger capture area. This powerful yet quiet range hood turns on simply just by pulling the hood out from its retracted position. The Pro-Line also offers a space saving option when in its retracted position. With it's space saving design, it allows easy access to cabinets and it fits standard cabinet depths. Measuring 17-3/4" closed to 24" open, it is available in 30", 36" or 42" widths and 18" in height. The Pro-Line Foldaway Range Hood is offered in a wide selection of metals and finishes on the front surface. Or, RangeCraft will match your decorative color sample for just the look you want. It also features their popular stainless steel Microbaffle Filters as well as LED (Green) lights to illuminate the cooking surface below the hood. The Pro-Line provides powerful ventilation with its powerfully quiet 600 CFM fan. An optional 1200 CFM fan is also available.

"We take great pride in offering this newest design innovation in ventilation to the industry. The Pro-Line Foldaway Range Hood is yet another example of RangeCraft's commitment to provide design and innovation along with the highest quality products to the industries we serve," states Helmut Goetz, CEO/President of RangeCraft Manufacturing.
